A City Without Oil

The United Arab Emirates (UAE) is a country with a lot of oil. Oil brings the country billions of dollars each year. So why is the UAE building a city that uses very little or no oil? The answer is simple: oil will not last forever. But there is another resource people can use instead of oil-the sun.

In fact, engineers are now building a new city that uses mostly solar energy for its power. The city is called Masdar, and it is about 20 miles (32 km) from Abu Dhabi, one of the largest cities in the UAE. If it is a success, Masdar will be the first city in the world that uses little or no oil.

Masdar is a small city-only 2.3 square miles (6 sq. km). In the future, it will hold 50,000 people, more than 1,000 companies, and a university. Its streets are very narrow. The houses are close to each other. The shade from the houses helps keep the streets cool.

There are no cars on the streets of Masdar. Because the city is so small, people can walk to most places. If they get tired, they can use the PRT: Personal Rapid Transit. These small, solar-powered cars move underground, like a subway. The cars have no drivers.

People just tell the car where they want to go, and it takes them there. Masdar will reuse as many resources as possible. It will reuse about 80 percent of its water and change most of its waste³ into more energy. People in Masdar are even using building materials that they can reuse in the future.

The four floors at the top of the building are just for the Ambani family. From there, they have a view of the Arabian Sea.

Henry David Thoreau, an American writer, lived from 1817 to 1862. At the age of 28, he built his perfect house. It was a very small house—just 10 feet by 15 feet (3 m by 4.5 m). Inside there were just three chairs, a bed, a table, and a small desk. The location of his house was very important to Thoreau. He built his house in the woods close to a beautiful lake.

Dikembe Mutombo, a professional basketball player, built a very different type of dream home. Mutombo grew up in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, but he moved to the United States to study. He wanted to be a doctor, but instead he became a famous basketball player. Mutombo's dream home is in the Congo, and it has beds for 150 people. Travel More, Spend Less:

Daniel's Cheap Travel Blog

This was a great year for traveling. I took trips to France, Australia, and Turkey. I spent almost a month in each country. Besides the cost of transportation, I only spent $600 total for all three trips. How? Well, I didn't stay in any hotels, and I didn't eat in expensive restaurants. It's easy when you know the secrets to cheap travel.

For my first trip, I went on a working holiday in France. Every year, farmers in France hire travelers to come and work on their farms. I slept at a farm for free, and every weekend I traveled around the country. During the week, however, I picked fruit for eight hours a day, five days a week. Picking fruit isn't easy, and sometimes it didn't feel like I was on vacation! But I met a lot of great people, and I ate a lot of delicious food at the farm.

For my next trip, I went backpacking in Australia. During the day I went hiking, and each night I slept in my tent. Carrying a backpack and tent all day can be tiring. However, the mountains and beaches were so beautiful that I didn't think about my heavy backpack.

Finally, in Turkey, I tried couchsurfing. To couchsurf, you join a special online network. This network connects travelers with hosts in different countries. Hosts invite travelers to sleep in their home instead of spending money on a hotel. You sleep in a bed, or even on a couch. That's why people call it couchsurfing. Couchsurfing is a great way to meet people when you travel. All my hosts were really nice, but one guy had two big dogs, and they were noisy. It was hard to sleep there!

I have to go for now. Two couchsurfers from Canada are coming in an hour, and I need to clean my house! Happy travels!

Dikembe Mutombo, a professional basketball player, built a very different type of dream home. Mutombo grew up in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, but he moved to the United States to study. He wanted to be a doctor, but instead he became a famous basketball player. Mutombo's dream home is in the Congo, and it has beds for 150 people. It also has an emergency room, many exam rooms, and some beautiful gardens. Mutombo didn't build his dream home for himself. Instead, he built it for the people in his native country. Mutombo's dream home is a hospital.

Travel More, Spend Less:

Daniel's Cheap Travel Blog

This was a great year for traveling. I took trips to France, Australia, and Turkey. I spent almost a month in each country. Besides the cost of transportation, I only spent $600 total for all three trips. How? Well, I didn't stay in any hotels, and I didn't eat in expensive restaurants. It's easy when you know the secrets to cheap travel.

For my first trip, I went on a working holiday in France. Every year, farmers in France hire travelers to come and work on their farms. I slept at a farm for free, and every weekend I traveled around the country. During the week, however, I picked fruit for eight hours a day, five days a week. Picking fruit isn't easy, and sometimes it didn't feel like I was on vacation! But I met a lot of great people, and I ate a lot of delicious food at the farm.

For my next trip, I went backpacking in Australia. During the day I went hiking, and each night I slept in my tent. Carrying a backpack and tent all day can be tiring. However, the mountains and beaches were so beautiful that I didn't think about my heavy backpack.

Finally, in Turkey, I tried couchsurfing. To couchsurf, you join a special online network. This network connects travelers with hosts in different countries. Hosts invite travelers to sleep in their home instead of spending money on a hotel. You sleep in a bed, or even on a couch. That's why people call it couchsurfing. Couchsurfing is a great way to meet people when you travel. All my hosts were really nice, but one guy had two big dogs, and they were noisy. It was hard to sleep there!

I have to go for now. Two couchsurfers from Canada are coming in an hour, and I need to clean my house! Happy travels!
